

JEFFERSON DAVIS POLITICAL CARTOON

In this Harper's Weekly political cartoon from June 1861, Confederate President Jefferson Davis is portrayed as a thief in the night. He is running away carrying Federal property, while claiming that he just wishes to be left alone by the federal government.

Uncle Sam: "Hallo there, you Rascal! Where are you going with my Property, eh"

Jeff. Davis: "Oh, dear Uncle! ALL I WANT IS TO BE LEFT ALONE!"

Harper's Weekly, Volume 5 Harper's Magazine Company, 1861 - United States

